Follow his remarkable journey that expands from a simple desire "To Shoe The Children Without Shoes On Their Feet" into an international aid mission.

A Pauper's (Poor Man's) Purpose, to "shoe the children without shoes on their feet", takes a retrospective approach which chronicles the exploits of Project Kind Initiative Kids Shoes ("Project KIKS") humanitarian missions to Johannesburg (Soweto & Alexandra) South Africa, Monrovia Liberia, and Accra Ghana, West Africa, Havana, Cuba and Hurricane Katrina, New Orleans, Louisiana (USA).

Presented is a culmination of stories tales, illustrations, photos and news accounts written by myself and our Country Directors and volunteer staff on the ground, at our mission sites. Contributing writers: Chief Sekou S. Dukuly "Mandingo Man" Liberia, Chief Mpho Makhubo, "Zulu Man" Soweto, South Africa, Abraham B. Jagba, "Komba Man" Accra, Ghana, and Paul Cheatham III (Uhuru), and Paul Cheatham II, Chief Nana Zawanah, KRU Man, Liberia, West Africa and Toby M. Tayeh, California, USA. Articles were published inside local and international newspapers by our photo journalist.

Poor Man's Purpose will provide a testimonial, reveal how the Town of Yountville, (Napa Valley) California, the Kiwanis Club of Yountville, and the veterans and home members and staff at the California Veterans Home, banded together to support our WAR (water and rice) distribution to Ebola Orphans and to "shoe the children without shoes on their feet" since December 2007, supporting our poor, homeless, blind and children living in squalor and youth orphaned by the deadly HIV/AIDS Virus & Epidemic which ravaged our beloved country of South Africa.
